THE FRIDAY BRIEFING

NOVEMBER 13, 2026 / Verified sources / Dates and event times shown separately

THE LEAD / Art after dark

The Whitney lists Free Friday Nights for today, November 13, from 5 to 10 p.m. Admission is free, but tickets are required, capacity is limited and advance booking is recommended. A free-entry programme is not a guarantee that a place remains available.

Tonight’s listed programme includes Emily A. Sprague and LEYA at 6:30 and 8 p.m., alongside short exhibition tours. These are scheduled activities, not performances this edition has attended.

Our editorial take: a museum evening can be a place to meet, listen and talk as well as look. Choose a programme, check its booking conditions and leave room for the art itself.

LOCAL / Brooklyn response update

FDNY published a November 12 notice linking a public-information briefing on the deadly Brooklyn building collapse. The agency dates the briefing to approximately 12:30 p.m. that day and names the mayor, fire commissioner and other city officials as participants. The update concerns the response to the collapse; this brief does not infer a final casualty count or a completed investigation.

MUSIC / The Garden tonight

Madison Square Garden lists Dave Matthews Band for November 13 at 7:30 p.m. Eastern, with doors at 6:30 p.m. The venue’s Fall Tour 2026 page gives the date explicitly, even where a relative “tomorrow” label appears. We use the dated listing.

Consult the venue for ticket availability, entry guidance and any changes before travelling. This is a programme listing, not a ticket offer or a report from the concert.
